

HIGH SCHOOL COLLEGE PROGRAM

What

- Richard Bland College of the College of William and Mary offers a dual enrollment program that provides additional learning opportunities for accelerated high school students. Students admitted to the program may enroll in one to five college courses each semester during their senior year.

Why

- Students can experience the college setting.
- Students can earn college credit.
- Students can take courses not available in the high school curriculum.
- Students can strive for a challenge and maximize their abilities.

Who

- Students who have at least a 3.00 (B) academic grade point average.
- Are in the top 20% of their class.
- Have received approval from the appropriate high school official.

How

- The high school guidance counselor or principal must complete the attached form and return it to RBC.
- The student must complete and submit the RBC Application for Admission. The student must include the $20 application fee.
- High school transcripts must be sent directly from the high school to RBC. Transcripts must be sent at the time of application and upon completion of the high school diploma.

Cost

- Admitted students will be responsible for their tuition and will be charged at the same rate as regular students. Textbook prices vary and will also be the responsibility of the student. No financial assistance is available for these students.
