

Real world experiences await

WorkIT@RBC is a new internship program at Richard Bland College of William & Mary that is designed to develop and prepare emerging young leaders with practical skills and the opportunity to work with local organizations in a paid internship.

Explore issues facing the technology sector and prepare students for their place in this high demand field.

Practice job preparedness skills such as interpersonal communication, public speaking, teamwork, giving/receiving feedback, interview techniques, and more.

Experience different leadership styles and expand self-awareness while deepening understanding of your values.
