GUIDE TO FINANCIAL AID

The Richard Bland College Guide to Financial Aid provides an overview of the financial aid process and should be used as a resource to help answer common questions regarding financial aid. It's not, however, all-inclusive. For any additional questions please call our office for further assistance.

WHAT IS FEDERAL STUDENT AID?

Federal student aid comes from the U.S. Department of Education. It is money that helps a student pay for higher education expenses (i.e., college, career school, or graduate school expenses). Student aid covers such expenses as tuition and fees, room and board, books and supplies, and transportation. There are four types of student aid: Grants, work-study, loans, and scholarships.

WHAT ARE THE ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS?

To receive federal aid a student must meet certain eligibility requirements such as:

- Demonstrate financial need (for most programs—to learn more, visit StudentAid.gov/how-calculated)
- Be a U.S. citizen or an eligible noncitizen
- Have a valid Social Security number;
- Register (if you haven't already) with Selective Service if you're a male between the ages of 18 and 25
- Maintain satisfactory academic progress in college or career school
- Sign the certification statement on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) form stating that you are not in default on a federal student loan and do not owe money on a federal student grant, and you will use federal student aid only for educational purposes; and

ADDITIONAL FINANCIAL AID OPTIONS

If a student does not qualify or have enough financial aid to cover their educational expenses, they can look into the following:

- SCHOLARSHIPS: Students are encouraged to pursue as many outside scholarships and grants as possible to reduce reliance on loans and working while in school. Outside scholarships are offered through private agencies and organizations such as high schools, community organizations, scholarship foundations, employers, and government agencies. Student must provide the Office of Financial Aid with a copy of scholarship notification letter(s). Outside scholarships may reduce the amount of need based financial aid you are awarded.
- PRIVATE LOAN: Nonfederal loan made by a private lender, such as a bank or credit union. Loans are based on credit worthiness of the borrower. A student may be required to add a cosigner on the application.
- PAYMENT PLAN: Contact our Business Office (804) 862-6100 ext. 8100.
